

Zone petitioners, council clash

By HENRY CANTIN

Official action by Romulus City Council on the acceptance or rejection of petitions for a referendum on the city's newly-adopted Zoning Ordinance and Master Plan has been deferred until the July 27 session of city council.

The delay in making any decision on the controversial issue was unanimously approved by the council following a long and heated discussion last Thursday.

The discussions before council brought a disclosure that the supporters of the referendum vote are prepared to initiate a court suit if their objections to the zoning ordinance are not met.

The petitions for the referendum vote were filed with the city council on deadline by Leonard J. Folmar, city clerk.

They contained 445 certified signatures, the requisite number. The petitions, when originally presented to the city clerk for certification, contained 513.

The petitions must be approved by the city council before a date for the referendum vote can be scheduled by the Wayne County Election Commission, unless a court rules otherwise.

The citizens group that initiated the referendum drive, as well as other area residents, are protesting various changes made in the new zoning ordinance and master plan that, in the opinion of the group and its supporters, were not in the best interest of the community as a whole.

The zoning ordinance was adopted by council on May 6.

A previously approved master zoning ordinance was rejected by the voters by a 2 to 1 margin. The plan provided for 500 acres of multiple zoning, which immediate brought objections from some areas of the city.

The new zoning ordinance presently under protest reduced multiples to 80 acres and eliminated the expansion of a mobile home park on Van Born Rd., between Middlebelt and Inkster Rds.

A 26-member Citizens Advisory Committee, which included representatives from each voting precinct in the city, was formed at the suggestion of council president Jimmie Raspberry and given approval of council to assist in drafting the new zoning ordinance.

Robert Plank, chairman of the Citizens Advisory Committee, spearheaded the referendum drive and reports that the committee supports a referendum vote.

He reported that the committee worked eight months on the new zoning ordinance and disclosed that council made changes in the ordinance while in executive session and the committee was not told about them until the ordinance and zoning map had been approved.

Plank also reported that the committee was promised a local building code and a local subdivision control act would be adopted simultaneously. This was not done.

Other charges included: multiple zonings have been granted by council in an area where the people are already upset with the over-abundance of multiples.

Gas stations zonings have been granted against the wishes of the citizens, while other zonings and text changes requested by the committee have been denied.

The council, in executive session, approved two zonings that the referendum group cited as undesirable spot zoning.

Plank charged that the city "spot-zoned" a parcel of land

Action expected tonight on unsettled police contract

By HENRY CANTIN

The Romulus City Council is expected to take official action tonight on a revised law enforcement contract with the Wayne County Sheriff Department's Road Patrol Division.

Romulus is presently without adequate police protection. The Romulus police force is now down to five members from its original complement of 10, including the police chief.

Three police officers have resigned. Another is absent.

City Council has scheduled an executive session on a revised 24-hour law enforcement contract for the city tonight at the new Municipal Building.

The proposed police service pact had been approved by the Wayne County Board of Commissioners last Thursday.

A motion to reconsider a previously approved contract with the city that excludes the present Romulus police chief was unsuccessful at the Thursday meeting of the commissioners.

The original presentation by the Wayne County Sheriff of a proposed contract to take over the Romulus police department was made more than six months ago.

It called for a 16-man road patrol force for Romulus backed by the complete services of the sheriff's department. The pact included a transfer of all police personnel into the road patrol division.

To initial cost for the first year was set at $348,000.

Since the original presentation, the county commissioners asked its Law Enforcement and Public Safety Committee to study the pact. This committee recommended changes in the proposed contract which had been approved by Romulus City Council but not officially signed.

The revised contract called for an initial cost of $378,000 for two police units for the city. The cost of the contract would be negotiable annually. The police chief was not included in the take-over of Romulus police personnel.

A motion for a summary judgement of dismissal of a Wayne County Circuit Court suit, filed by the Romulus Police Officers Association to halt enforcement of the contract, has been filed with Judge Charles S. Farmer. The court took the motion under advisement.

The police association charged in the suit that the city violated terms of a current employment contract with RPOA when the city contracted with the Wayne County Sheriff Department for 24-hour police protection. Also, that the city violated terms of the City Charter which states that Romulus must develop its own police department and that the sheriff's road patrol does not qualify.

When the revised police contract was discussed by City Council last Thursday, some heated comments were made.

Councilman James C. Stewart said, "I want to see the final contract. I have seen four or five of them. Wayne County is dictating to us. This I do not like. It is our money we are spending. It has been nearly seven months that Romulus has been paying a string. We've got for ourselves. We don't accept this contract or develop our own police department."

Council President Jimmie Raspberry taking the cue from his colleagues on the council on the importance of an immediate decision requested council members to attend an executive session tonight in an effort to arrive at some final action on the contract.

Council takes him off board

Critic removed from PCHA

By JOE CHAREST
Daily Eagle Staff Writer

The Southgate City Council has removed Walter Sudak, voluble critic of Peoples Community Hospital Authority (PCHA) administration, from his seat on the Authority's Board of Directors.

The resolution came at the council's Wednesday night session and passed by a vote of 4 to 3. Sudak's replacement will be fellow councilman Gerald Laura.

The ouster adds more ammunition to what could result in another full-scale uproar involving Kenneth Greymore, former PCHA director, who was fired by the board in 1966 after a state investigation of alleged mismanagement of the Authority.

Greymore is still very much in evidence behind the scenes and is by his own admission fighting to clear his name and regain his job as director.

His lack of attendance was cited as the main reason for Sudak's replacement. The resolution to appoint Laura was made by Councilman Charles Dunn.

"Southgate's representatives were under direction to confer with the council on major PCHA issues and obtain direction," Dunn said.

He stated that his council is very ill-informed and cited Sudak's poor attendance record as one of the reasons.

Since his appointment to the board in 1967, Sudak has attended 17 of 46 full board meetings. He has shown up at 4 of 23 meetings of the Planning and Construction Committee, of which he was a member. He has not attended a monthly meeting since February, when the annual election was held.

Sudak himself was "totally surprised" by the move. He feels its a "dirty move," but commented, "I'm not going to give up my fight (concerning a recent request for another election). I will continue it both as a councilman and a private citizen."

Bond issue decision set for next month

Decision on whether another proposed school building bond issue will be presented to the voters in the Romulus School District this year will be before the Romulus Board of Education in August.

School Superintendent Robert L. McConeghy had requested directions from the school board on presenting the bond proposal to the school district's electorate again at the last school board meeting.

The school board agreed to discuss the bond proposal and decide the matter at its Aug. 9 board meeting. The board is expected to decide on a possible bond issue in the early fall.

In the June school election, voters of the school district overwhelmingly defeated two bond propositions.

An $11.5 million bond issue for the construction of five building additions, two elementary schools, one junior high school, building repairs and purchase of school sites was defeated by a two to one vote margin.

The second bond issue calling for a $1.25 million issue to construct a swimming pool at Romulus Senior High School for students and community was rejected by a four to one vote margin.

A school building bond issue for slightly less than the June proposal was defeated by the voters in April, 1970.

Under Michigan law there must be a waiting period of six months before school districts can present a defeated bond issue to the voters again.

If the bond proposal is changed in its amount, an election can be held before the expiration of the six-month period, with the consent of the Wayne County Election Commission.

Romulus School District expects an enrollment increase of 500 students in the fall, for a total of 6,400 students and by 1976 and

Tax levy down, treasurer reports

The city property tax levy in the City of Romulus for the 1971-72 fiscal year is $12.50 per $1,000 of assessed property valuation, state equalized, Albert Gliniski, city treasurer has reported.

In an earlier report on the city tax assessment of 1971, the tax levy was reported at $12.60.

The levy is made up of the following property tax assessments: $5.60 for City Operation, $3 for Water Millage and Sewer Tax of $4.

The county tax levy in the city for 1971-72 is $7.16 and the school tax as fixed by the enrollment of 8,500 is expected.

School officials are hopeful that the school district can house the 500 additional students in September.

McConeghy reported that a lot of families are moving into the school district this summer and there is a chance of running short of space by the end of the school year.

He stated that the students will be in cramped classrooms by September, 1972.

The school district will need "at least 10 new classrooms by then, primarily in the junior high schools," McConeghy said.

The school board last week is $30.09 per $1,000 of assessed property valuation, state equalized.

Romulus' treasurer's office is now preparing to collect the city tax.

This is the first summer that Romulus is collecting only the city tax portion of the 1971-72 property tax levies which will become due on approximately Aug. 15.

The county and school taxes are collected on Dec. 1. Previously the Romulus collected a combination tax.

Mobile park violations being corrected--mayor

Reported violations of the Romulus Building Codes and Michigan Mobile Home Park code requirements lodged against the Royal Village

Trailer Park by park tenants and the City of Romulus are in the process of being resolved, Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael reported.

Mayor Carmichael informed City Council that Dr. Leslie Moss of Southfield, park owner, has expressed a willingness to bring the park up to standards. Moss attended a meeting with city officials on the reported complaints.

The trailer park is located on Van Born Road between Middlebelt and Inkster roads.

Last Thursday, Mayor Carmichael reported to council that an inspection was made of the park on July 14.

He said that several violations of the city's electrical code have been corrected, 17 trailer pads condemned and contracts for asphalt paving will be made at tenants' convenience. In addition, reported trash throughout the park has been cleaned up.

Investigation and inspections will continue until all complaints and problems are resolved, the mayor said.

Romulus school meeting planned

Members of the Romulus Education Association negotiating team, citizens, PTA and Community leaders will meet at Cory Elementary School on Thursday, July 29, at 1 p.m. to discuss teacher contract negotiations.

The scheduled meeting signals a landmark in parent, community, teacher communications and cooperation.

For the first time in Romulus, teachers have sought to work with parents and community members to include their mutual concerns in future contract negotiations and to explain their current requests.

Also, for the first time, members of the community will have an opportunity to inform the teachers group of their concerns about the education of their children.

Bargaining with the school board appointed negotiators will resume on Aug. 6. If agreement is reached, school will open on the day after Labor Day with classes beginning on Sept. 8.

Pollution abatement made to farmers

Michigan leads the nation under the 1970 program in getting farmers to carry out pollution abatement practices on farmland. Over 120 projects were completed and most of these dealt with livestock waste.

Smith pointed out the Soil Conservation Service and our agency have been helping farmers to carry out these conservation practices for the last 30 years. Many of these practices have eliminated the run-off of millions of tons of top soil, greatly reducing the pollution of the nation's waterways. Smith pointed out this has benefited wildlife, increased hunting, fishing and other recreational purposes for all the people.

City requests bids again

Bids for phase one of Romulus' 1971 water and sanitary sewer construction, authorized by City Council recently are being requested again by Romulus.

Bidders have until 10 a.m. Aug. 3 to submit bids involving the installation of sanitary sewer and water mains in some areas of the city.

Contract documents may be examined at the office of Wade, Trim & Associates Inc., city engineers, 25185 Goddard Rd., Taylor. Bids must be submitted to the city clerk's office, 11111 S. Wayne Rd.

In April, the City Council approved the letting of bids for the community's $900,000 plus water and sanitary sewer program.

Last week, the council was told that only three of the 13 bidders obtaining plans have submitted bids.

Charles C. Hellman, of Wade, Trim & Associates reported that the low bid exceeded the proposed construction cost by $174,000. He also reported that five contractors that did not bid but took out plans were contacted and they expressed a desire to submit a proposal if the project was rebid.

Why do we enjoy banking so much?

Maybe it's because we've been in Wyandotte for five generations now. We've had the opportunity to see a small boy proudly open his first savings account... helped him get an education... financed his first car... assisted with the mortgage on a new home when he got married... helped him get started in his own business... and stood by proudly with him, while his boy opened his first savings account. Like we said, banking isn't business to us. It's a pleasure.

Zoning petitioners council clash in the southwest corner of Romulus for a gas station and another 10 acres in the southeast corner for multiples.

Terry L. Trout, former Romulus Township supervisor and presently operator of a Romulus business appeared before council and spoke in favor of the referendum. He said:

"I spent a year campaigning and trying to get what I thought was a decent zoning ordinance. We met with the planning commission and the mayor trying to come up with this ordinance. Although I don't like some areas of it; I thought we work up something good for the majority subject to necessary changes to meet future growth and conditions in the community."

"The council met in a special meeting and made major changes. Your counsel (John E. Young) says that we have no right to initiate and have a referendum vote. I checked with three municipal attorneys and I say that he is wrong. Changes were made in the ordinance after the public hearing. Technically it is legal. I am not here to pick a fight. The petitions have been filed. I support them although I did not circulate them."

"We worked with the people you had assigned to us," Trout continued. "Council made changes not in line with what we started with. I strongly disagreed with what you (council) did. You ended up with petitions for a referendum."

Councilman Edmund Bizek said that the planning commission did hold meetings and disagreements were heard. The public hearing was held to get citizens' objections," so that we could have their viewpoints." Both the commission report and public hearing results are recommendations to the council and are not final decisions, he said.

"I am miffed that you came here," Bizek said. "You said a lot of words but what you are not saying is what is wrong." He added that the referendum supporters should go first to the planning commission.

Councilman Ellis T. Pennington voiced a dislike to what he termed a "threat" by Trout of going to court if the referendum petitions are not approved.

"We appointed the citizens advisory committee to meet with the planning commission. We took their recommendations and then held a public hearing. We studied the objections made at the public hearing. I think we have a good master zoning plan."

Council members all agreed that by approving the referendum petitions without further efforts to ironed out the dispute without court action would leave the city without a zoning ordinance and, under city statute, Romulus could not make emergency use of an old township approved zoning plan during the interim.

City attorney Young, who contends that the new ordinance is not subject to a referendum, reports that the council would have to adopt an emergency ordinance by going through planning commission and holding another public hearing.

In defense of his contention, he cites a 1970 court ruling by the Michigan Court of Appeals (Feb. 3, 1970) that a city is not subject to a referendum on a zoning ordinance.

First session scheduled for new city hall

The new council chamber is air-conditioned and has a seating capacity of 144 persons.

Members of the city council will sit at a court-bench type desk that is situated across the front of the council chamber.

The Romulus Roman, a weekly publication of the Associated Newspapers, Inc., a division of Panax Corporation, East Lansing, has been designated as the official publication of the Huron School District's Board of Education.

On the evening's agenda will be the proposed referendum vote on Romulus recently-adopted Zoning Ordinance and Master Plan.

By HENRY CANTIN
The Romulus Board of Education has adopted the school district's property tax levies for the 1971-72 school year.

The new tax levies were set at the July meeting of the school board and following the election of new officers and the seating of new board member Mrs. Diane L. Boger.

The levy for school operations next year has been increased and the debt retirement levy reduced, School Superintendent Robert L. McConeghy reported.

The total school property tax assessment next year will be $30.09 per $1,000 of assessed property valuation, state equalized. This compares with $30.04 per $1,000 of assessed property valuation, state equalized last year.

The total tax levy is up one-half mill over last year but still within the millage voted by the school district's electorate, McConeghy said.

The $30.09 assessment is made up of $8.9 allocated by the Wayne County Tax Allocation Board and 19 mills voted by the school district's voters.

In the 1970-71 school year only 18 mills of the total millage approved by the voters was assessed.

The debt retirement levy for next year has been reduced from $3.50 per $1,000 of assessed property valuation to $3 per $1,000 of assessed property valuation, state equalized.

McConeghy recommended levying the total millage available for operational purposes of 27.08 mills and that the debt levy be reduced from 3.50 to 2.2 mills.

A general discussion by school board members about levying a debt retirement levy of 2.2 mills and resulting depletion of the school district's reserve fund was held and the school board voted against the 2.2 mills assessment and agreed on a reduction to 3 mills.

The school district's bond debt is in excess of $7,440,000. The reduction in the debt levy for next year is due to increased property values in the school district and decrease in the bond debt.

Assessing the full millage available for school operations next year is made necessary by increased operational costs and reduction in state aid to Romulus Community Schools, McConeghy reported.

In 1970 state aid was reduced by $80,000 when Gov. William Milliken reduced financial help to all school district. Also in 1970, the Michigan Supreme Court's ruling on free

The total tax levy is up one-half mill over last year but still within the millage voted by the school district's electorate, McConeghy said.

The $30.09 assessment is made up of $8.9 allocated by the Wayne County Tax Allocation Board and 19 mills voted by the school district's voters.

In the 1970-71 school year only 18 mills of the total millage approved by the voters was assessed.

The debt retirement levy for next year has been reduced from $3.50 per $1,000 of assessed property valuation to $3 per $1,000 of assessed property valuation, state equalized.

McConeghy recommended levying the total millage available for operational purposes of 27.08 mills and that the debt levy be reduced from 3.50 to 2.2 mills.

A general discussion by school board members about levying a debt retirement levy of 2.2 mills and resulting depletion of the school district's reserve fund was held and the school board voted against the 2.2 mills assessment and agreed on a reduction to 3 mills.

The school district's bond debt is in excess of $7,440,000. The reduction in the debt levy for next year is due to increased property values in the school district and decrease in the bond debt.

Assessing the full millage available for school operations next year is made necessary by increased operational costs and reduction in state aid to Romulus Community Schools, McConeghy reported.

In 1970 state aid was reduced by $80,000 when Gov. William Milliken reduced financial help to all school district. Also in 1970, the Michigan Supreme Court's ruling on free text books and instructional materials be made to students resulted in additional operating expense.

The Michigan legislature is yet to determine the amount of state aid to school districts in the state for next year.

"The way things are now we will be lucky if we receive the same state aid received last year. It may be less," McConeghy said.

Last year Romulus School District received state aid in the amount of $1,465,000, a drop of $80,000.

Expiring this year is 10 mills of the 19 mills voted for operations.

McConeghy announced that he would recommend renewing the 10 mills. What the school board will do depends on what the state does on state aid for next year's school operations.

District applying for school loan

A resolution authorizing the Romulus Community School District to apply for $1.5 million in Tax Anticipation Notes against school property taxes which are payable on Dec. 1, 1971 has been approved by the Romulus Board of Education.

If approved, the loan must be paid back by April 1, 1972.

The resolution, unanimously approved by the board on July 12, was offered by Davis B. Draper, school board secretary. He was supported by trustee Gervasio Canejo.

The school board acted on recommendation made by School Superintendent Robert L. McConeghy.

An application for permission to borrow the money must be approved by the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission, Lansing. If approved, the loan must be paid back by April 1, 1972.

Governor gets trailer bill

Although the main thrust of the legislature has been toward budget and revenue problems for the new fiscal year, the house has been devoting considerable time to floor action on a variety of bills.

One somewhat controversial bill which has finally cleared both houses and been sent to the governor is a senate proposal which would allow 14 foot wide trailers to be hauled on Michigan Roads. The present limit is 12 feet.

After the bill passed the senate and was sent to the house there were several house amendments added to it. Those amendments were unacceptable to the senate and the bill was sent to a special house-senate conference committee to work out the differences. Both the house and senate approved the conference committee report.

The bill has two major benefits. It will help to stimulate Michigan's mobile home industry and make it more competitive with those in other states that allow the larger units to be hauled over their highways. Also, it will help to make decent housing available to those families who cannot afford custom built homes. The extra width of the mobile homes will make them more attractive to potential buyers.

Opponents of the bill claim it would create traffic hazards on the highways. However, there were a number of safeguards written into the bill which would reduce any such dangers. Among them is a ban against hauling the big units on weekends and holidays.

Another recently approved house bill will be of special interest to senior citizens. It would prohibit gas, electric or telephone companies from demanding cash deposits for service from persons 62 years old or older who are applicants for residential service.

The only exception would be when the utility could show that the applicants are bad credit risks under standards set by the Michigan Public Service Commission.

By EDUARDE E. MAHALAK
State Representative
38th District

The vote on this bill was close. Those who supported it felt that cash deposits can be a burden and tie up money for retired persons on limited income and that senior citizens generally have a good record on their payment of bills.

A related bill, pending in the house appropriations committee would require that gas, electric and telephone companies supply service to senior citizens at 50 per cent of normal rates.

A bill that stirred considerable controversy, was defeated once, reconsidered and eventually approved in the house would allow physicians to offer birth control services to minors. There were objections to this on both moral and legal grounds, but before the second vote on the bill there were sufficient changes in it to satisfy enough critics.

The purpose of the bill is to prevent unwanted pregnancies among unmarried teenage girls. Under present law, doctors cannot dispense birth control services to single girls under 21 without parental approval.

Medical student says Griffin able legislator

To the editor:

I would like the people of Michigan to know about a very gratifying experience I have just had with Senator Robert Griffin. I feel he has dramatically proven that our system of representative government is not only workable but is truly responsive.

I am a 24-year-old medical student who wrote to Senators Griffin and Hart about a solution that could alleviate the critical shortage of physicians in rural and ghetto areas. Apparently Senator Griffin, who was aware of the problem, felt my idea has merit. In less than one month Senator Griffin transformed my basic concept into an amendment to the draft bill. The amendment was then passed by the U.S. Senate.

Presently the bill is in the Conference Committee where I hope the amendment will remain as part of the final bill. If not, the Senator has assured me he will enter an entirely new bill concerning this matter.

I want to point out that I am an ordinary citizen who is opposed to the war and tends to vote democratic. I have no prior political experience, no money, no connections, or political influence, yet I was able to convince Senator Griffin of the urgency of the problem and the validity of my solution. He then took the action which he deemed to be the most rapid and effective. The results of the Senate vote are a testimony to his skill as a legislator.

I wish I could relate this experience to every citizen of this nation and especially to those who feel the individual citizen cannot be heard. Certainly, the credit must go to Senator Griffin who recognizes his responsibility and listens to his constituents irrespective of their political views and financial influence.

Although I tend to vote democratic, I sincerely hope that the people of Michigan will see fit to reelect this capable and responsive senator in 1972.

Can Muskie's logic outlast financial lag?

loose his Kennedy ties to join the Muskie effort. The acquisition of Mark Shields, another rising professional, is a major breakthrough because it conveys the interest, if not the backing, of his employer, Gov. John Gilligan of Ohio, who means to play a strong hand at the 1972 convention.

Similarly David Carley, a respected Wisconsin Democrat, secured consent from Gov. Pat Lucey before he joined the Muskie camp. This was significant because Lucey has a personal affinity for Sen. George McGovern. And in Florida, another critical primary state, Muskie is lining up an imposing roster of top Democrats.

Sen. Harold Hughes complained, in withdrawing from the contest, that Muskie "will move the party to the right" but this is a criticism from him. A Humphrey encore seems less and less plausible. Edward Kennedy continues to tell close friends to stay uncommitted but some inner wisdom restrains him from the big leap.

Henry Jackson is saying sensible things and making many friends. The labor movement has begun to push him hard with a strategy of going all out if he scores in a major primary. He may well become Muskie's great problem but, in a convention showdown, the party balance will tend to tilt toward the logic of Muskie.

logic of Muskie will seem more apparent.

Even the highly sensible agreement by the contenders to limit media outlays in the primary campaigns will work to Muskie's advantage. The step was unavoidable to preserve the party and its candidates from being led into bankruptcy by unbridled competition. But the restraints on paid TV exposure will clearly favor those who have had the most exposure in the past.

Muskie himself has not licked his money problem. Many to whom he might look for substantial support at this point say they are waiting for Hubert Humphrey, "Some wealthy Jewish contributors have been diverted by gratitude for the President's friendliness to Israel. The Muskie expenditures have been running ahead of the receipts.

But money will gradually come if he holds his lead and no one looms to take it away from him. A Humphrey encore seems less and less plausible. Edward Kennedy continues to tell close friends to stay uncommitted but some inner wisdom restrains him from the big leap.

He may well become Muskie's great problem but, in a convention showdown, the party balance will tend to tilt toward the logic of Muskie.

Politics can turn its back on logic but in the sweet lull of summer, Muskie is regarding his prospects with an assurance he has not felt in months.

'Hire A Kid' jobs needed

In a continued effort to "bridge the employment gap" for Romulus boys and girls seeking work, Earl Lamb, sponsor of the "Hire A Kid" project has contacted almost a dozen clubs and organizations in the Romulus area asking their help.

Each group has been asked to donate funds toward a $4,200 goal to be used to provide seven weeks employment for ten people. The youngsters will be paid at a rate of $1.50 per hour, less taxes and deductions.

With the cooperation of the city government, the jobs will be designated and supervised through city departments.

Lamb also reported an increase in job offers from the community. "We are getting some calls for yard work and cleaning jobs, we are very optimistic that we will have more," he said.

Persons interested in helping out with a job offer are urged to call 941-0666 and ask for "Hire A Kid".

Board chooses alarm system

The installation of alarm systems in Romulus Senior and Junior High Schools (as needed) has been approved by the Romulus Board of Education.

The Security Controls Inc., 16143 Wyoming Ave., Detroit, has been selected to install the alarms systems on the recommendation of Thomas M. Janack, director of Maintenance and Operation for the school district.

The school board authorized the installation by Security Controls Inc. after discussion of alarm systems as proposed by several companies.

In other actions the school board received and opened annual bids for milk, gasoline, anti-freeze, fuel oil, motor oil and took the bids under the advisement pending recommendation by Janack.

The board authorized the payment of $960 dues for 1971-72 membership in the Michigan Association of School Boards and named Gerald Budd, vice president of the school board as delegate to Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments (SEMOC).

Board member and secretary Davis B. Draper was named alternate delegate.

OUTSTANDING BUS DRIVER — John Jobe, 49, of 45185 Venetian St., Belleville (left) a school bus driver for the Van Buren Public Schools since 1959 has been selected as the winner of the Merle Barker Memorial Award presented annually to the school district's outstanding bus driver. He is accepting the award from Gerald McKelvey, contest chairman, at the recent Belleville Area Lions Club installation. The local Lions club is sponsor of the Merle Barker Memorial Award named in honor of Merle Barker, transportation foreman until his death in March, 1970.

Sudak was the first of three signers who petitioned Board Chairman Donald J. Pizzimenti earlier this month to call a special meeting for another election of officers.

Pizzimenti refused on the grounds that another election was not within the board's authority until next February. Dunn also said that Sudak's apparent involvement with Greymore was an important factor in his replacement.

By council resolution in 1967, Southgate instructed it's board representatives not to become involved with the former director.

"We don't need that kind of publicity about things that happened back in 1966," Dunn said. He added that he did not know Greymore personally and had no ax to grind with him, but felt it was in the best interest of his city to prevent negative publicity.

Sudak's most severe criticism of the Authority involved the selection of a Chicago-based architectural firm to draw up plans for the new Taylor hospital.

He criticized the selection of out-of-state firms while this state's jobless rate is extremely high.

"I am really disturbed to think," Sudak said recently "that with Michigan being a leading state in the unemployment, these people would go to an Illinois firm."

Pizzimenti defended the selection by pointing out that the company had been selected only after many months of study, and that it had been selected by a majority of the board of directors.

He also indicated that the architectural firm E. Todd Wheeler and the Perkins and Will Partnership, is registered as a Michigan corporation and pays state taxes.

Dunn mentioned Sudak's objections to the firm's selection and his letters to newspapers on the subject as a factor in Sudak's ouster.

"I don't think anyone on the council knows all the mechanics," the councilman stated, "but a majority of the board backed the appointing of the architectural firm. The majority on the city council feel that it was within this framework that he should have worked with the board."

"I'm sure that the State Attorney General and the Finance Commission is watching the PCHA very carefully. If he felt there was some hanky-panky going on, he should have gone to them."

Sudak himself apparently has not been involved with the Attorney General, but Greymore, through a lawyer, recently sent a packet to the Attorney General containing statements on various practices now occurring within PCHA.

Mrs. Maxine Boord Virtue, an assistant attorney general has informed Greymore's attorney that her office "can make no use of these unauthenticated copies."

She requested that Greymore send by covering letter under his signature any factual information he wishes them to include in their PCHA file.

Cages wanted

A request for new cages made by Van Buren Township Dog Warden Douglas Kobish for use at the township's dog pound has been approved by the township board.

Kobish reported to the board that the new cages are light weight, collapsible and much easier to clean than present cages.

He added that the present cages in his opinion might not meet new state standards for ventilation of animal cages.

'Twelfth Night' is presented with a Russian accent at U-M

The University of Michigan Players present "Twelfth Night," a comedy in five acts presented with one intermission by William Shakespeare, directed by Richard Burgwin, set by Robert Wolff, costumes by Zelma H. Weisfeld, lighting by Douglas Pope, choreography by Joan Susswein, music arranged by James Harris. Presented as part of "Michigan Repertory '71" in repertory through July 24 at the Lydia Mendelssohn Theatre, Ann Arbor, with the following cast: Edward Ciccirelli, James Glenn, James Harris, Cecilia Phelan, Bruce Levitt, Joan Susswein, Evan Jeffries, David Kelly, Priscilla Lindsay, Chester Smith, Thomas Sweeney, Jon Matousek.

and an uneven cast founder a bit. Part of the reason possibly is what Burgwin, in a program note, called a "somewhat different production approach," surely an understatement.

Burgwin has given "Twelfth Night" a Russian setting no less, complete with Chekhovian costumes and Samovars, Russian dances, Siberian soldiers and gloomy portraiture.

Despite Chekhov's almost-unknown hilarious one-act plays, Russian drama does not, as a rule, inspire belly-laughs, and Russian trappings don't generally signal an atmosphere of hilarity. It takes a better cast than the University of Michigan has to offer to overcome these handicaps.

Edward Ciccirelli's Orsino is adequate, but more is needed. Cecilia Phelan's Viola is somber. Priscilla Lindsay is much brighter; as Olivia she is a total coquette. Bruce Levitt is a hearty Sir Toby while James Harris is an excellent clown. There is a British tinge to David Kelley's foppish Sir Andrew. Chester Smith's Malvolio is far too dignified and elderly to adequately suffer the indignities heaped upon him.

"Twelfth Night," Shakespeare's popular confusion about shipwrecked twins in which a sister's posture as her brother causes no end of confusion, is one of the best comedies the Bard wrote. An outdoor production by the University of Detroit a decade back moved at a breathtaking pace. Burgwin's production, unfortunately, is more sluggish.

Ann Arbor Art Fair opening for four days

By HOWARD ALLEN
Daily Eagle Drama Critic

There are few defter hands at gross physical movement than Richard Burgwin, whose comic genius has enlivened many a knockabout scene for the University of Michigan. And the expected delights are to be found amid the roisterings of Sir Toby Belch and Sir Andrew Aguecheek with the clowns and the gulling of Malvolio, in the University Players' production of Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night," in repertory this week at the Lydia Mendelssohn Theatre, Ann Arbor, as part of the University's "Michigan Repertory '71."

Unfortunately, there's an awful lot of play between the buffoonery and here Burgwin

The Ann Arbor Street Art Fair, one of the best known open air art festivals in the United States, will showcase the work of nearly 300 artists and craftsman today through Saturday.

The Street Art Fair attracts artists from as far away as Arizona, Florida and Ontario, but also serves as a showplace for local talent. More than 100 exhibitors are from the Ann Arbor area.

The colorful four-day event on The University of Michigan campus at East University and South University Avenues is juried to secure top artistic quality. Requests for admission far outnumber the places available.

There were 265 new applicants for space at the 1971 Street Art Fair, in addition to last year's exhibitors who wished to return. The committee reviewed about 3,000 photographic slides before making room for 98 new exhibitors—half of them from Michigan.

The Street Art Fair each year provides a special area for the Ann Arbor Potter's Guild, senior citizens, high school artists, and children's activities. Teacher Ron Lutz will direct the children's activities at the Fair this year, collecting cardboard and other discarded items to be used in a "recycling" theme.

Among the most popular events at the Fair are special demonstrations of arts and crafts, including live portrait painting, glass blowing, weaving and pottery making.

The Ann Arbor Street Art Fair has long been known for its free exchange of information between artist and citizen. The open air booths encourage face-to-face contact and avoid the rigid formalities of traditional art museum settings. Performing artists and craftsmen lend a note of theatricality.

The Street Art Fair is sponsored by the Ann Arbor Association, the South University Businessmen's Association, the Ann Arbor Chamber of Commerce, and the University.

Early photographs to be seen in exhibit

Thomas Eakins, one of America's great realist painters, acquired a camera in 1880 and used it constantly for the next 15 years. More than 200 photographs he took will be shown in the Detroit Institute of Arts now through Sunday, Aug. 29.

The camera lens became a "third eye" for Eakins. Relatives, friends (including poet Walt Whitman), students and family pets were among his subjects and the photographs were often direct sources for some of his best known works like "The Swimming Hole," "Wrestlers," and "Hauling the Seine."

He had no qualms about using photography as an aid to painting, unlike many artists who resented Daguerre's 1839 discovery because popularity of the camera cut back portrait commissions which had been their mainstay.

Many of the photographs in the exhibition are recent discoveries, unearthed by Eakins' scholar, Gordon Hendricks, who wrote the illustrated catalogue of the show. "Thomas Eakins: His Photographic Works" was organized by the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts.

Painting and photography meet in this survey of a fine artist's achievements with an early camera. "Thomas Eakins: His Photographic Works" is open to the public without charge in the Ground Floor galleries of the museum during regular hours: 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Tuesday through Sunday.

Underground Museum opens

An Underground Museum has been opened at the Art Institute.

Casual, informal, intended as a summer adventure for school age boys and girls interested in how work is done by artists themselves, the Underground Museum lies beneath the Great Hall and may be investigated by anyone descending the stairs just off Kresge Cafe.

Exploring hours are 1 to 5 p.m. Tuesday through Friday. Individuals and groups are welcome; however, groups are requested to call the Education Department at 831-0360 ext. 47, for reservations and information.

Sponsored by the museum's Education Department, the Underground Museum occupies a spacious basement workshop now converted into a display and demonstration area. The entrance is marked by a cluster of boldly-colored Japanese paper kites.

The Underground's first attraction is ceramics, with a display of Mexican and Peruvian folk pieces and student experiments in clay—a great contrast to the museum quality pieces above ground in the permanent collection.

The day-to-day program will be shaped by the interests and questions of visitors, according to John Hunter of the Education Department.

FLAMING EMBERS - The group which made a hit of "Westbound No. 9", the Flaming Embers, is now appearing Tuesdays through Saturdays at Crockett's Lounge, 38418 Ford Rd., Westland. Lead vocalist Jerry Plunk and the Flaming Embers will also sing their other hits, "Mind, Body and Soul" and "I'm Not My Brother's Keeper" in their nightly appearances. The group has appeared on Dick Clark's American Bandstand and at many local nightspots.

'Man for All Seasons' is stimulating fare

The Wayne State University Theatre presents the Hilberry Repertory Company in a Summer Theatre Festival production of "A Man for All Seasons," a drama in two acts by Robert Bolt, directed by Don Blakely, sets and technical direction by Russell Paquette, lighting by Gary M. Witt, costumes by Vic Leverette. In repertory through Aug. 14 at the Hilberry Classic Theatre with the following cast: Howard Jensen, Thomas B. Hill, Michael Andrew Miner, John H. Napierala, Mary Benson, Barbara Ball, Jon Benson, James S. Newell, Jeffrey O. Rodman, James Corrigan, David MacEnulty, Pat Hecht, James Ryan.

By HOWARD ALLEN
Daily Eagle Drama Critic

George Bernard Shaw's love affair with the English language certainly must be shared by Robert Bolt, whose well honed and brilliantly polished "A Man for All Seasons" opened the upstairs portion of the Wayne State University Theatre's Summer Theatre Festival at the Hilberry last week. Indeed Paul Scofield's interpretation of Sir Thomas More on Broadway is remembered as a perfect jewel of a performance in a flawless setting of a play.

More was Henry VIII's most trusted advisor but also the King's conscience. And when Henry formed the Church of England because the Pope would not sanction his divorce from Catherine of Aragon to wed Anne Boleyn, the silence of More, deeply committed in the highest spiritual sense to Rome, so anguished Henry that he had to destroy him, a task which took years for More, although imprisoned and his lands and goods confiscated, refused to permit a loophole in the law which would allow his execution and was ultimately eliminated through perjured testimony.

Unfortunately, the More of Howard Jensen is a tarnished jewel and this is one play which rides almost completely on the interpretation of its star. Jensen is cold and remote, a posture he used to great effect as the icy, ironwilled mayor in "Enemy of the People." But the Ibsen play raises a valid point; there is almost no forward movement in the first act of "Enemy"—the scene is used mostly to show the great warmth and love and happiness in the Stockmann family to emphasize what his conscience is forcing him to sacrifice. Thus it must be with More, who must be shown as a warm and loving man to magnify his fall. This Jensen can not do.

Don Blakely directs flamboyantly, so much so that at times

U-D presents theater events

The University of Detroit Department for the Performing Arts will present several new theatre events in conjunction with their second Annual Summer School for the Performing Arts and their Summer Theatre program.

"An Evening of Mime," a one man show by guest artist-in-residence Geoffrey Buckley, will be presented in Theatre 113 on Saturday and Sunday, July 24 and 25. Instructor for the school's two mime workshops, Buckley has studied at the Studios of Chagrin in London and Lecog in Paris and has been tutor to many of England's finest theatre companies.

Buckley will appear as Pierrot in his two-part program. Speaking through mime rather than words, this traditional Commedia dell'Arte character communicates the characteristic gestures of the human race in a continuous performance of pathos, drama, comedy and silence.

Performances will begin at 8:30 p.m. Tickets are $2. for Buckley's concert.

Continuing through the month of July is Theatre 113's production of "Tales From 100 Aker Wood," a new musical version of A.A. Milne's "Winnie the Pooh," which has been adapted by James W. Rodgers. Performances are held weekends on Friday at 7:30 p.m. and Saturdays at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. Tickets are $1.25 with group rates available.

Watershed council receives federal grant for lake study

The Huron River Watershed Council has announced receipt of an additional federal grant of $12,865 for its Inland Lakes and Shorelands research project.

The grant, from the Interior Department's Office of Water Resources Research, will support the development of a 40-page booklet, suitable for nationwide distribution, outlining the environmental problems of inland lake communities and suggesting ways these communities can work cooperatively to solve their problems.

The grant supplements an earlier $63,100 two-year research contract, under which the Watershed Council has been analyzing the problems of five lake communities in the Huron River Watershed and the attitudes of lake residents to their surroundings.

As part of the original project, the research staff developed a booklet, "Inland Lakes: Analysis and Action." The new grant will permit revising and expanding this booklet.

The primary goal of the research project is to determine the information needs of lake community residents, to give them a better understanding of the physical processes of a lake environment and to suggest actions that the residents can take to preserve and protect their lake and its shoreland so that it meets their needs.

Loan ok'd

An application to borrow the sum of $450,000 on the 1971-72 State Aid to meet operating expenses through the first payroll in September, 1971, has been approved by the Romulus Board of Education. School Superintendent Robert L. McConeghy reported to the school board that three quotations on the loan application have been received from local banks.

A resolution authorizing the borrowing the sum of $450,000 from the Manufacturers National Bank at an interest rate of 3.20 percent was adopted by the school board unanimously.

The Manufacturers National Bank's quotation was the lowest received.

Belleville firm adds saleswoman

Mrs. Barbara Forsythe, 31, of 1500 W. 11th, Belleville, has joined the sales staff of the Stinehour Real Estate Co., 507 E. Huron River Dr., Belleville.

Mrs. Forsythe, a licensed real estate salesman, is a graduate of Dearborn High School and received a bachelor of arts degree from Michigan State University in 1961.

Born in Dearborn, she is the mother of one son, Greg.

Council's project research team is Jerome K. Fulton, former executive secretary of the council. "We're very pleased to have received this additional grant," he said. "The original booklet has been very enthusiastically received. We have had requests from all over the country for copies, even though it was written specifically for our five study lake communities."

A key factor to receiving the additional federal contract is the commitment by the Cooperative Extension Service of Michigan State University, to print and distribute 30,000 copies of the revised booklet throughout Michigan.

Work on the new booklet has already begun and is scheduled for completion by the end of September.

Ramsey wins bank promotion

Roy G. Ramsey of Belleville has been elected an assistant vice president, branch administration, at Bank of the Commonwealth, it was announced by President John E. Thompson.

Ramsey joined Bank of the Commonwealth in September, 1964 as an assistant branch manager of the Eastern Market Branch. In March, 1966 he was promoted to manager of the Belleville-194 Branch.

He was elected an assistant cashier in July, 1967 and was promoted to branch administration last September. Before joining Bank of the Commonwealth he was employed by National Bank of Detroit.

Ramsey is a graduate of the American Institute of Banking. He is treasurer of the Huron Valley Conservation Association, a member of the Belleville

ROY G. RAMSEY

Chamber of Commerce and a director of Belvill Community Hospital, Belleville.

He and his wife, Marjorie, have one daughter, Amy, and four sons, Mark, Paul, John and Craig. They live at 16244 Bak Rd., Belleville.

Epidemic cancels 4-H horse show

An epidemic of horse-killing sleeping sickness that has raced through Mexico and into Texas killing at least 6,000 horses has cancelled a 4-H Horse Show scheduled in Dallas, Texas Aug. 4 to 13, affecting trip plans for approximately 25 Michigan 4-Hers who were scheduled to attend.

Members of the Thunderbird 4-H Club under the leadership of Mr. and Mrs. Christ Fischer of Romulus were to participate in the Dallas show.

Among those slated to go on the trip was Kathy Shine, 14, of 29940 West Road, New Boston, who had planned on taking her five-year-old pony "Tee-K-Nu-Ea."

Kathy, whose parents operate a six-acre farm in New Boston, reported that a heifer and bull of the family's cattle herd were attacked by what may have been a bobcat. The animals were found bitten and scratched.

Policy updating is recommended

School Superintendent Robert L. McConeghy has recommended to the Romulus Board of Education a re-vamping and up-dating of school policies for the school district and also that the final outcome be approved and printed.

The superintendent's recommendation was presented at last week's school board session.

Board member Jason Lovette suggested that a two member committee to screen the policy as assembled be appointed and then upon the opening of school, involve the Romulus Education Association, student groups and arrive at a definite policy for adoption by the school board.

McConeghy was authorized by the board to investigate the professional service offered by the National School Board Association to review school board policy and make recommendations.

Gerald Budd, board member, requested that the bus discipline policy be added to the student handbook. The board approved the request.

3-Cards of Thanks

Our most sincere thanks to relatives, friends and neighbors for their kindness, floral offerings and mass cards during the illness, and at the death, of our dear husband and father. Special thanks to Father Leo and Baum Funeral Home. Mrs. Elton Denneff and family.

A "thank you" does not even begin to express our deep appreciation. We know you must have experienced the loss of a loved one to so beautifully shower us with your expressions of love and sympathy, through words, many dishes of food, willing hands, beautiful gifts and flowers during our recent bereavement. Family of Frank Youlsey

'Rest Assured' theater's arrived

By ANN O'BEAY

As the summer months roll on, the community can "Rest Assured" that the lovely Belleville High School Auditorium is being put to good use as community members of all ages are "bridging the generation gap" - joining together in the sparkling new Summer Theater Recreation Program.

The Belleville area has at long last been graced with a community theater group, including not only the school age students, who eyes light up with a new purpose for their summer months, but with adult members of the community becoming involved in all facets of stage production.

A typical day at the auditorium finds actors of all ages gliding across the stage—characterizing, interpreting, pantomiming - as stage crew members hammer away at the sets that will frame the pictures that are so vividly and enthusiastically painted by the community's own dramatic talent.

Parents who once made up the audiences of previous school productions can be seen on stage with all the rest; backstage—organizing costumes, working on publicity and generally having a grand time...working to bring a strong and lasting theater program to our area.

In August the results of these ventures will be displayed as the Adult Theater Group presents the three-act comedy, "Rest Assured". This show promises to captivate all with its humorous plot and lively characterization.

"A Community Theater Group"...these words have finally become a reality for this area and can continue to be only with the support of the key word of that phrase—community.

An adult theater group will continue throughout the year, with family oriented activities offering a wide variety of stage experience to all. This can only exist if everyone joins together to support it. Take part in the joy of the stage—take script in hand and become an actor; take needle in hand and become a costumer; take pen in hand and become a publicity agent; take hammer in hand and design a set.....and become a part of the magic of opening night.

Get involved!—It's your community. Become an active part of it and "Rest Assured" that happiness will be yours.

Grain program payments due

Preliminary payments are now being released to Michigan farmers who participated in the 1971 wheat and feed grain programs.

On July 1 over 37,000 payments for almost 16 million dollars had been processed. This is about fifty percent of the total payments to be issued, Nick Smith, chairman of the Michigan State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee reported.

These payments, he added, are made to reimburse farmers for the cost of idling productive cropland acres and maintaining that acreage in a satisfactory conserving manner.

The concept of the new set-aside program was devised to assist American farmers in producing for expanded foreign and domestic markets. On the rest of their land farmers in the program can shift their production without acreage restrictions according to market needs. Such shifts hopefully will enable farmers to cut their production costs and thereby raise their farm income and at the same time make our agricultural products more competitive in foreign markets.

Smith, in closing, stated that the preliminary wheat payments being mailed represent about 75 percent of the total expected payment. Final payments will depend upon the National average wheat market price and will be made after Dec. 1, 1971.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

BY HAROLD REDISKE, DIRECTOR

Daniels Realty, Building & CAMPER ALUMINUM exterior. Some people say, "The church is always asking for money." Even if this was 100% true, the expression should be squelched because church people, places and purposes face a constantly growing need for money to carry on work that needs to be done. The world is topsy turvy enough as it is but stop and think how ghastly unlivable it would be without churches.

This brings to mind the meaningful words of Peter Marshall, the revered former chaplain of the U.S. Senate—

"Surely there is something wrong with our lives and standards of values, when we compare what we spend for amusements and what we give to the church. There are gifts made at a cost and some are willing to do without personal comforts in order to have a real part in the Kingdom of God. But there are others whose contributions are more casual and their gifts are more like tips; less than the annual dues in the club; less than the amount they spend on non-essentials."

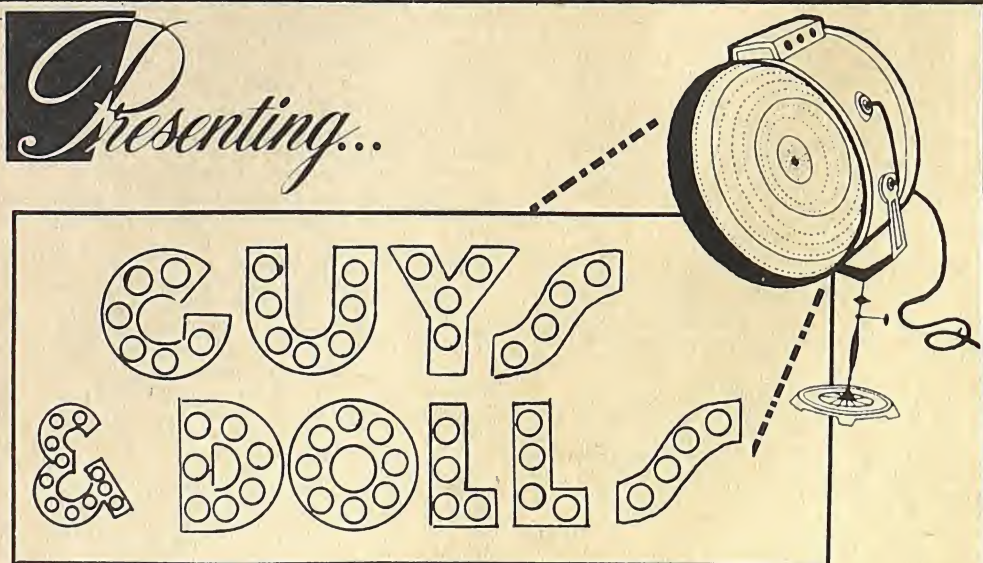

The thought may be worth thinking about...

Romulus leader is upset, 5-4

Spearman's halts Morgan's title drive

On the verge of capturing the 1971 Romulus Adult Softball League title, Morgan Manor saw its plans dissipate momentarily when third place Spearman's pulled an upset on the frontrunners last week.

The victory kept Spearman's title ambers burning. It was Morgan's second loss in 15 starts, keeping them on top of the standings, but only one game up on Anchor Block Co. The second place Block team has a 13-3 won-lost record.

Spearman's is two games behind with five to play and has a slight edge in their remaining schedule. Morgan and Anchor meet head on in a game that could decide the championship, then both clubs must meet Baum Funeral Home and Romulus Progressive two clubs currently tied for 4th place.

Spearman's followed up the big win over Morgan with a forfeit victory over Guardian Coating.

Morgan came back to handle Theodore Limousine easily 10 to 4.

ANCHOR BLOCK continued to win, defeating Theodore if a tense, defensive struggle Thursday 1 to 0. Rich Rakotz saved brother Ralph's shutout in the seventh when, with two outs and a runner at third, he

New bet system

By TOM MOORADIAN
Sports Editor

This column should be appreciated by the turf addict who has had to suffer the indignations of the would-be handicappers - the Charlie Bucks, the Sports Meridians, the Al Speeds and all other prognosticators of the parimutuel world.

How to win at the race track without really trying has stirred the imagination of both men and women since the creation of "The Bet". Though thousands of "systems" have been tried, none apparently has been truly successful - or more important profitable.

I speak from experience. However, I was recently introduced to a mathematical wizard who apparently has hit about a formula so unique, so fascinating, so unbelievable and, more important, it works. I know I speak from experience.

The Wizard, whom we must keep anonymous because of obvious reasons, must have the following conditions in order to produce a winner: An All-Star Game in Detroit, the American League beating the National League, and in this incident it must be by the score of 6-4.

Yes, dead fan. How simple. This math genius said: Play 6 and 4 the other day and we scoffed. But it didn't take long for us to become believers.

Late that night as the teletype machines started to hum the names and numbers of the winners from Northville Downs a strange combination formed - six (6) Mr. Morris, and four (4) Thunder H.

And when we saw the pay off - a hefty $413.00 - we went searching for that wizard. He has disappeared.

And now the 'Tri-Fecta'

As it wasn't difficult to pick a winner now with all the gimmickery of the Daily Double, Perfect, Quinella, Big P, Big Q - the racing fans will soon be introduced to the "Tri-Fecta".

Reportedly, Detroit Race tracks will be wagering with this new form when the shifts are made from Northville to Wolverine and from DRC to Hazel Park.

The "Tri-fecta", simply, is trying to pick the horses which will finish 1-2-3 in a given race.

Heck picking a winner can be frustrating, let alone a horse that will finish second. Now the boys want the fans to also close their eyes and select the horse that will end up in third.

Of course this gimmick isn't anything new - they have it in New York and in Europe, they say.

Some feel that the "Tri-Fecta" could be the catalyst to even better things.

I feel the bet boys are beginning to overdo it.

Too many gimmicks can have a paradoxical effect, destroying something that has been paying off neat sums to the track and the state coffers.

And I'll bet if they do instigate the 1-2-3, it won't last.

NRA holds title shoot in Ohio

The National Rifle and Pistol Championships will be held at Camp Perry, Ohio, July 28 through August 24. The championships will be decided in high power rifle, pistol and smallbore rifle.

The matches are conducted by the National Rifle Association and its membership. In addition to the competitions, there also will be two schools conducted by the NRA.

They are the Police School and the Instructor-Junior School.

This year's "World Series of Shooting" will encompass all of the matches held in the past at Camp Perry, including the famed 1,000-yard supremacy.

Twenty-man teams have been entered from Australia, Canada, Great Britain and the United States for the August 21 match at 800, 900 and 1,000 yards.

EAGER FOR ACTION - The National League All-Stars are ready to get into the swing of playoff competition, taking on the winner of the Belleville American League All-Stars and the Morenci on Friday at 5:30 p.m. at Belvil Little League stadium. Members of the team include (front row, from left) M.

Cornett, G. Cicco, D. Stocker, B. Collins, (second row) D. Peterson, M. Webster, M. Stoelton, D. Lundell, P. Krystyniak; (third row) T. Cook (Coach), T. Laine, L. McArthur, R. Green, M. Stoelton (Manager). Not available at the time of the picture were G. Scheffler and S. Stillwagon.

2,000 to participate in annual fitness meet

More than 2,000 boys and girls from 48 communities are expected to compete in the finals of the 14th annual Detroit Metropolitan Area Youth Fitness Meet to be held at Lower Huron Metropolitan Park near Belleville on Thursday, July 29.

Praesidium Drum and Bugle Corp. of Riverview, will begin the day's events with a performance at 9:30 a.m. with the assembly of contestants, flag raising ceremony, and invocation to precede mass calisthenics and the athletic events.

Boys and girls, ages 10 through 15, will compete in one event per person, with first second and third place winners receiving trophies donated by the American Legion, Department 6, Michigan, through the cooperative efforts of Matthew W. Jamieson, department commander, and F. Gerrit Veldman, adjutant.

Nearly 250,000 youths competed in preliminary events at recreation centers throughout southeastern Michigan. More than 2,000 of those participants will be competing in the finals on July 29.

City and community recreation departments participating in the 1971 finals include: Adrian, Allen Park, Ann Arbor, Berkley, Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, Dearborn, Dearborn Heights, City of Detroit's districts (East north, south, southwest and west), East Detroit, Ecorse, Ferndale, Garden City, Grosse Pointe Park, Hamtramck, Highland Park, Inkster, Jackson,

Wolverine season could be greatest

Wolverine Harness Raceway opens its second season starring the Championship Mile Track on Wednesday, August 4 with every premise pointed toward the greatest season in its long history.

When the Livonia plant went to the mile track for the first time in 1970, many horsemen and fans felt that the full size track would lack the appeal of the more intimate half-miler.

This proved far from the truth as a record 473,157 fans clicked turnstiles pushing $34,367,576 through the mutual wickets for another record.

Racewise, the transition was equally healthy as sheer

Ford to represent Congress on UNESCO

Congressman William D. Ford (D-15th District) has been named by Secretary of State William P. Rogers as a Congressional representative to the U.S. National Commission for the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO).

Congressman Ford's appointment, recommended by Speaker Carl Albert, is effective immediately and expires at the end of 1972. UNESCO, probably the best known United Nations agency, deals with the problems of world education and with scientific and cultural cooperation among member nations.

"I am exceedingly pleased to have this opportunity to serve on a commission which assists such as important U.N. agency," Congressman Ford said. "I look forward to the assignment."

Congressman Ford, who has represented Michigan's 15th District for the past seven years, is a member of the Education and Labor Committee, and is the social and economic committee's recognized expert on overseas education. He has won international recognition for his legislative work on behalf of schools serving dependents of Americans stationed abroad in military or other government service.

International problems of education are one of the principal interests of the UNESCO advisory commission on which Congressman Ford will serve. Others include environmental problems, and the application of science and technology in the social and economic development.

Sandra Morris is bride

NMU graduates wed at Methodist Church

A month-long honeymoon in Florida and Kentucky followed the June 26 nuptials of Sandra Morris and Robert C. Harris. The double ring ceremony was solemnized at the First United Methodist Church at six o'clock in the evening.

Some 300 guests were assembled for the summer wedding which was officiated by the current church pastor, Rev. Charles Dibley, and a former pastor, Rev. George Q. Woerner, now retired.

Vases of orchid and white flowers carried out the color scheme of the wedding and were used with lighted tapers to adorn the altar.

ESCORTED TO the Sanctuary by her father, Sandra appeared in a creation of silk organza over summer satin. Irish lace was used to cuff the long sheer sleeves with seed pearling and lace frosting the round, high neckline. The toe-touching skirt terminated in a chapel train, also accented with lace, which was drawn up into a bustle for the reception.

Her silk illusion veil, cut in mid-back length, drifted from a crescent headpiece of white flowers and she carried a bouquet of long-stemmed summer flowers tied with a lace bow.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT C. HARRIS

Pamela Merritt of Belleville was her sister's matron of honor in a violet chiffon pant dress featuring a full, floor-length skirt. A white flowered headpiece held her violet veil and she carried a white basket filled with lilacs, lilies of the valley and ivy.

Identical gowns in lilac were worn by the three bridesmaids, Jill Jahner of Wayne, a cousin; Clare Hitter of Livonia; and Diane Soka of Mansfield, Ohio.

THE BRIDEGROOM choose his brother, Jack Harris of Belleville, to be best man. Others on the esquire side were Ron Hitter of Livonia; Alan Nalli of Belleville; John De Yonke of Dearborn; Paul Stetser of Germfask; and Keith Merritt of Belleville, the bride's brother-in-law.

Roma Hall was the setting for the reception which followed. Some 450 friends and relatives were greeted by Mrs. Morris in a mint green floor-length chiffon gown with silver trim and Mrs. Harris in an aqua formal dress with white accessories. Both mothers were presented with corsages of baby orchids.

Sandra and Bob are both graduates of Northern Michigan University where she was affiliated with Alpha Xi Delta Sorority and he with Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity. They are both teaching in Flint Area Schools.

October wedding planned

The engagement of their daughter, Janell Marie, to Dennis Lee Sears is being announced by Mr. and Mrs. William G. Burhop of 12001 Quirk Road, Belleville.

Miss Burhop graduated from Belleville High School and the Marjon School of Cosmetology.

Her fiancé, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Sears of 1003 Sherman Street, Ypsilanti, is an Ypsilanti High School graduate. He served with the U.S. Army and is presently employed as a carpet installer.

An October 16 wedding at St. John's Catholic Church, Ypsilanti, is being planned.

The Richard Jorgenson family of 49635 Cross Street, Belleville, is currently sharing its home in the little community of Denton with a delightful new member of the household. Adding a touch of South America these mid-summer days is pretty, dark-haired Marines Grau from Miraflores, Lima, Peru.

Marines (whose name is pronounced mare-a-ness) is an 18-year old leader of Girl Guides who was brought to the United States through the auspices of the Juliet Lowe Friendship Fund. A Young Member of the Girl Guides Association, which is the South American equivalent to our Girl Scouts, Marines leads a troop of 10 to 14 year olds.

MISS BRINDAMOUR

Brindamours announce engagement

A November 20 wedding to coincide with her parents 23rd wedding anniversary is being planned by Denise Brindamour whose engagement to Philip Towar Wright is announced by Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Brindamour of 10041 Endicott, Belleville, parents of the bride-elect.

Both Miss Brindamour and her fiancé attended Belleville High School, she having graduated this past June.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Towar, Jr. formerly of 41529 Expressway, Belleville, the prospective bridegroom is a veteran of the Vietnam conflict having served for four years with the U.S. Marine Corps. He is presently employed by Fisher Body at Willow Run.

St. Anthony's Catholic Church has been reserved for the autumn nuptials.

A student at Victor Belandine University in Peru, she is currently on a three months leave of absence. Since she is majoring in public relations, she was selected to represent her country at the national Girl Scout event, "Public Relations-P's and Q's" which is to be held at the East Bay Conference Camp Center in Bloomington, Illinois next month.

A girl Guide since the age of seven, Marines will receive her degree as an Expert of Public Relations in December.

BELLEVILLE TOO, will have its representative at the two week affair. Among the 240 girls attending will be Cheryl Thompson, daughter of the John T. Thompsons of 305 High Street, one of two area girls to be chosen by the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council to take part in the national gathering.

A First Class Scout, 15-year-old Cheryl is a member of Senior Troop No. 161 sponsored by the Altar Society of St. Anthony's Church. A Scout for the past seven years, she will be involved in various workshops dealing with public relations via television, radio and other communication levels.

Her side-kick at the event will be Vicki Frazier of Ann Arbor while Marines' partner will be Ruth White from Scotland.

SINCE MARINES arrived in the community (she'd previously spent five days in New York and three in Washington, D.C.) she has been on a whirlwind schedule with her host family, the Jorgensons, and their children, Janine, Ed, Denise, Raymond, and Kirsten, as well as with Scouts and leaders in the Huron Valley Council.

Recent experiences include an interview by Lucy Dobson on Ann Arbor's radio station WPAG with Cheryl at her side; a six-day stay at Camp Linden near Howell; a picnic with her Scottish counterpart's family, the Ivan McIvors, in Ann Arbor; a tour of the University of Michigan campus and its television studio; another picnic at Metro Park with Senior and Cadette Scouts from the Southern Wayne area; and a hike in Canada's Georgian Bay area with the Huron Valley Hikers. Whew!

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rafael Grau, she is one of six children who can speak very proudly of their ancestor, Miguel Grau, their great-grandfather.

For ecology's sake, please do your part

There are immediate steps you and your family can take to help control environmental pollution. Amway, a leading in-home sales company marketing home cleaning products, suggests some positive things you can do:

—Remain calm since cool heads working for solutions are more effective in solving problems than hot heads spreading hearsay.

—Be willing to pay for adequate sewage treatment; to wait a reasonable time for industry to implement air water and noise pollution controls. To work — what's worth having is worth working for. Support efforts to improve sewage efficiency and capacity.

CONSERVE WATER: A family of four consumes an average of 200 gallons of water a day, without the consumption of industry.

—Running dishwashers and clothes washers only when necessary and only at full capacity.

—Keep at a minimum the operation of the garbage disposal.

—Water the lawn only in the morning or in the evening when it is not immediately lost through evaporation.

WATER POLLUTION: Use limited or no-phosphate detergents in your washing machine. Measure your detergent according to the manufacturer's label instructions. With many cities enforcing phosphate percentages in detergents, check that your detergent conforms to local ordinances on phosphorus content. Many ordinances require that detergents contain no more than 8.7 per cent phosphorus by weight.

SOLID WATER POLLUTION: Litter is truly a family affair. About 5.3 pounds of waste are discarded by each person in the U.S. every day. Street, highways, campsites are littered by nice people who believe good housekeeping is for the other fellow. Here are a few corrective steps to take:

—Maintain refuse cans in good condition with tightfitting lids.

—Take a litter walk — picking up candy wrappers, etc., as you go along.

—Equip your car or truck with a litter bag and use it.

—Leave picnic grounds and campsites better than you found them.

—Bring your own trash bags just in case the campsite containers are full or none provided. Bring trash home if necessary.

—Never use highways or open areas for disposal of washing machines, furniture and large items. This is becoming common practice, creating eyesores in our finest recreational areas.

AIR POLLUTION: Walk or bicycle instead of driving whenever possible. It's good for the body as well as the environment.

—When you take your car, take a friend. Car pools, public transportation and more efficient management of short trips out of the house cut down on the number of cars in the streets.

—Investigate anti-pollution devices on new car purchases.

—Don't burn leaves. Use them for compost. Start a compost pile for disposal of grass cuttings and vegetable wastes. If you must burn trash, use only a properly designed incinerator.

INFANTS' CRIES SIGNAL DISTRESS

As every experienced mother knows, a baby's cries will differ according to his needs. One kind of howl means 'I'm starving-to-death,' another 'I'm-sopping-wet-come-change-me.'

Doctors, too, are clued into a newborn's health by his cry. "The character of the cry is of great diagnostic importance," Dr. James M. Toomey, of the University of Rochester School of Medicine, told physicians attending a recent medical meeting.

Stridor, a harsh whistly sound resulting from partial obstruction of the air passages, may indicate a decrease in the opening of the larynx. Or it may accompany other airway narrowing.

A deep barking sound may indicate problems with the trachea, while a muffled cry may indicate obstruction elsewhere. A weak or absent cry, wheezing, a loud stuttering cry — all these are an infant's way of calling for help, the physician observed. And physicians are alert — as mothers are — to the nuances of crying.

Kiwanians attend annual convention

SAN FRANCISCO was the recent destination for four Belleville couples — Kiwanians and their wives who were on the West Coast to attend the 56th Annual Kiwanis Convention at the Civic Center.

Delegates were Don White, the Belleville Club's first vice-president who flew out with his wife, Avis; and Kenn Daniels, Lieutenant Governor Designate of Division Nine, who attended with his wife, Jean, and son, Larry.

Also attending were Olin Wyman (who, as Lieutenant Governor, represented the Whitmore Lake Club) his wife, Elsie, and their two grandsons, Robert and John Wyman, the sons of the John Wymans of Sunset Lane.

And using the convention as a means of marking their upcoming golden wedding day were Fred and Ina Lund who, with the Daniels family, later winged their way to Hawaii.

Among the highlights of the convention was the Michigan District Dinner which took place at Tiburon following a cruise in the San Francisco Bay.

Sideline fun included Fisherman's Wharf, China Town and the famous Frisco trolley cars.

Having the same tour director for the post-convention trip to the Islands, the Lundes and Danielises enjoyed similar events during their stay. Highlights were the gigantic luau for some 1500 people at the Hilton Hawaiian Village on Waikiki Beach; a cruise to Pearl Harbor; the beaches; and deep-sea fishing for the Daniels trio who did the Island via rented car.

Returning Stateside the latter three were met at the Los Angeles Airport by a close friend, Carl Nelson of Glendale, who acted as their guide at Knott's Berry Farm and Disneyland.

And, on their return to Belleville July 9, the Lundes found a most important telegram awaiting them — news of their first great-grandchild, a boy, born July 3 to their granddaughter and husband, Mary and John Hayes, who are in Frankfurt, Germany with the U.S. Army.

Fred and Ina will be marking their 50th year, officially, on November 20 when their family hosts an open house party in their honor. Until then, they have their pictures, souvenirs and memories of Hawaii to fill their days.

Karen Schell is honored

KAREN SCHELL and Craig Stabnau are engaged and making plans to be married when he completes his basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.

The past week has been a busy time for the bride-elect who's been caught up in bridal showers — in triplicate. The first, hosted by the prospective bridegroom's aunt and cousin, Janet Stabnau and daughter, Cathy, was a miscellaneous event at their home on Belleville Road.

Friends and relatives of Craig, about 30 in all, enjoyed looking over pictures of the young couple from infancy to the present time. Then, too, there were games of bingo and a buffet luncheon featuring a three-tiered bridal shower cake (copied from the pages of Seventeen) by local cake artist Ann Riggs.

THE SECOND pre-nuptial event was a lawn party Sunday, July 11, at the Charles Schell home on the Expressway. Co-hostesses Jean Schell and Ginny Gebhardt welcomed some 20 friends of the family in for the afternoon and entertained with bride bingo and a buffet luncheon.

Then there was the picnic-style shower, also miscellaneous, held around the Schell's fireplace on the evening of the 14th. Karen's close friends, about 20, were on hand to present her with an array of pretty gifts.

Barb Schell and Debbie Loos carried out the roles of hostesses.

Bonnici-Goldsmith marry

Mid-summer wedding unites Belleville pair

Carolyn Ann Goldsmith and Robert Bonnici, both of Belleville, exchanged wedding vows and rings in a July 10 ceremony at St. Anthony's Catholic Church with the Rev. Raymond Skoney presiding at the afternoon rite.

The five thirty nuptials united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Goldsmith of 20437 Sherwood Road and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bonnici of 13851 Lenmoore Road.

For her wedding day, Carolyn donned a formal gown of embroidered sheer over satin, the high-rise bodice featuring a deep oval neckline, full bishop sleeves, and a satin cummerbund with pearl embroidery encircling her waist. Her bouffant veil of silk illusion drifted to mid-back length from a dainty rosebud garland and she carried a bouquet of white carnations, purple statice and baby's breath.

THE BRIDAL COTERIE was headed by the bride's sister, Janet Goldsmith as honor attendant. Bridesmaids were Sherry Harvey of Garden City, and Dian Goldsmith of Belleville, both sisters of the bride, and Kim Bonnici of Belleville, sister of the bridegroom.

Their blue flocked voile gowns were fashioned with scooped necklines and short, puffed sleeves. A white satin sash accented the honor maid's gown while deep purple was used for the other attendants.

All wore veiled Dior bows in their hair and carried bouquets of carnations, daisies, statice, and baby's breath to harmonize with their frocks.

Best man was Michael Bonnici, the bridegroom's brother. Ushers were Bill Goldsmith of Belleville, brother of the bride; Jim Harvey of Garden City, brother-in-law of the bride; and Jeff Almone of Belleville.

MRS. GOLDSMITH wore for her daughter's wedding a yellow brocade coat-dress ensemble with Mrs. Bonnici appearing in avocado green with gold trim. Both added yellow rose corsages to their outfits.

Following their reception at the Democratic Club in Taylor, the newlyweds departed for a week-long honeymoon in the South and are now making their home in Wayne.

On this particular little earch, just about four-fifths of everything alive is in the sea, it's said . . . In reply to a query, must mention only a fourth of a frozen beef pie has to be beef, that's all. . . . And remember Ethel Mumford's advice, too? "Don't take the will for the deed; get the deed."

It's a pub in Newton Verdon, England, called the Georgian Dragon. Wives thereabouts like it. A lot. What happened was the builder erected it over an old coal mine which sank some. So the pub tilts in a most peculiar manner. A husband without a drink under his belt can manage all right. But after several of the usual, it's said, he no longer can make it to the bar.

Customer service: Q. "Can a farmer just look at a ripe corn field and tell you how many bushels it will turn out?" A. So it's said. An Iowa farmer, especially. And in Kentucky, I'm told, some can tell you how many gallons . . . Q. "How old does a car have to be before you call it antique?" A. Would have to be built before 1924, the experts say . . . Q. A Canadian astronomer contends his close scrutiny of moon photographs convinces him that shape we used to call the man in the moon is actually a voluptuous girl approximately 860 miles tall. That's a lot of voluptuous girl, is it not? . . . Incidentally, initials of the first three men on the moon — Armstrong, Cooper and Aldrich. So? Never mind.

All he does, this thief, is open the car door, and suddenly a voice yells, "Help! I'm a sky-blue Ford! Somebody is stealing me. My license number is . . . Call the police! Quick!" It's a tape recording. Can be heard a block away. Creator of this alarming device says it will put an inordinate amount of egg on the faces of car strippers. The Detroit boys are considering it. Hang-up is its practical-joke potential. Too whimsical. Anybody with access can record anything on that tape deck. A honeymooner's car, for instance, might scream, "The chivaree will be at the Midtown Motel, gang!" Or an errant husband's car could blare out, "This woman is not Brown's wife. She's Smith's wife. They sneak out like this every Wednesday afternoon, the rascals!"

Camp Wathana ready for action

Camp Fire Girls throughout the Detroit Metropolitan Area are hauling their sleeping bags off shelves, testing antimosquito sprays, shining up mess kits, and sewing on name tags.

This flurry of activity is one of the heralds of summertime. And, most important for most Camp Fire Girls - camp time.

Camp Wathana, the Detroit Area Council of Camp Fire Girls resident camp near Holly, Mich., has begun its summer season.

Many inner-city girls who have never had a camping experience will be joining Camp Fire Girls (ages six through sixteen) to make friends with each other and with the out-of-doors.

Camp Fire Girls have always stressed on awareness and appreciation of the out-of-doors. Therefore, it is not unusual to see the campers spending two days and nights in an authentic Woodland Indian dome-shaped dwelling (Waginogan in the Chippewalanguage), practicing primitive campcraft and Indian cooking.

Swimming; diving; canoeing; archery; and learning erosion control, tree pruning and wildlife management are among the activities for campers. A new feature at Camp Wathana is bike hiking. The girls take short bicycle trips on back trails in and around the camp

Students build desks for school

Prior to the close of the school year at South Junior High School, instructor Foster Eid and his class made an interesting contribution to the school.

The students drew up the plans for some individual desks and asked Eid if they might be able to build them. Following their pleas Eid contacted other staff members and local business men and with the combined assistance the materials and tools were made available.

As the desks began to take shape, fellow students and staff members were called in to pass judgement on the work. Receiving a "go" the class went on to the final step and created a colorful finale to their project.

The students received commendation from their principal Don White, as well as from other staff members.

Driver kills bull on road

Mrs. Margaret J. Cecil, 54, of 43551 Willow, Belleville, struck and killed a bull while driving her car recently in Romulus.

She and her two passengers were not seriously injured but were taken to the Wayne County General Hospital for checkups.

Romulus Police Chief Jacob K. Koch reported that Mrs. Cecil was driving her car south on Huron River Dr. around 1:15 a.m. Saturday. As she approached the front of 14440 Huron River Dr. a large bull suddenly ran into the path of her car.

The bull was owned by George J. Beavers, 14659 Huron River Dr.

Mrs. Cecil and her passengers, Delores Anderson, 28055 Sumpter Rd., and Delmon Terrell, 14, of 16731 Cherry Lawn Ave., Detroit, were shaken up but not visibly injured.

Bicycle program grows in popularity at 4-H

How about a bike hike? It's the thing to do, you know.

It's wonderful exercise, produces no air pollution and it's fun for the whole family.

An indication of the growing popularity of the 4-H bicycle program is seen in the enrollment statistics.

During 1970 some 135,000 4-H boys and girls participated in the program supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service.

Sponsored by The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company, the program is designed to teach young people between the ages of 9 and 19 care, maintenance and safe operation of the bicycle and the fun opportunities of cycling. Kids learn the rules of the road and ordinances of the community pertaining to bicycles and bicycle riding. And they gain appreciation of these laws for personal safety and courtesy to others.

There is an added bonus here as most of the laws concerning correct bicycle riding also pertain to driving an automobile.

Today when "having a set of wheels" is no longer a luxury, these young people will move easily to the driving of a much more powerful piece of equipment.

But before that day comes, a bicycle is providing more and more young people with fun, mobility and exercise.

Rules of the road are but one aspect of the "learning by doing" 4-H bicycle program. The young people also learn how to repair, adjust and take care of their equipment.

They also learn to judge when a job is too big for them to handle alone and when a reliable serviceman should be consulted to keep their bicycle in safe working condition.

As program donor, The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company provides incentives to the members enrolled and rewards junior and teen leaders for their outstanding work with younger members. Each member receives a certificate of participation. A $50 U.S. Savings Bond is provided for one member from each state with the most outstanding 4-H bicycle program record.

Twelve expense-paid trips to the 50th National 4-H Congress in Chicago, Nov. 28-Dec. 2, will be awarded to sectional winners selected from among the state winners.

They are chosen on the basis of their record of accomplishments including junior or teen leadership in the program.

Hemophilia no barrier to summer camp fun

A camp is a camp is a camp ... except to a boy whose medical history prevents him from having the rough and tumble fun of a summer camp experience.

This has been the case of many boys with hemophilia, a disease where the blood lacks the proper clotting factor. Often to these hemophilia boys summer camp is an experience they could only read about or hear others tell of.

At least such was the case until three years ago when Hemophilia of Michigan planned a one-week camping session full of activities like swimming, boating, fishing, crafts and nature study for 23 hemophilic boys.

The experiment was so successful that in three years the summer camp has expanded in area, in number of campers and staff and in the range of activities in which the boys can participate.

The third annual summer camp held at Mill Lake, a camp site in the Waterloo Recreation area about 25 minutes' drive from Ann Arbor, accommodated 70 boys. They included Patrick Van Cooley, 11074 Buchanan St., Belleville.

This year campers are not only Michiganders but boys from Ohio, Illinois and Indiana.

Sports celebrities such as Detroit Lion defensive end Larry Hand and Ron Johnson, former captain and University of Michigan All-American who is now an All-Pro running back for the New York Giants, are among those who spent a part of the camping week with the boys.

A resident physician, Dr. Charles Gehrke, two other physicians, two nurses, two physical therapists and a larger activity staff were selected to provide what Marvin Williams, Executive Director of Hemophilia of Michigan, believes is a "remarkable program for these boys to which camp has always been an activity they've wanted but in which they couldn't participate."

Where fees for attending the camp have been prohibitive, Hemophilia of Michigan, a Michigan United Fund agency, has provided "camperships" for Michigan residents to help defray the cost of camp to individual families.

Cub Scouts initiate program for summer

Cub Pack 1739, under the leadership of Cubmaster William Kemp, and sponsored by the VFW Post 9568, Romulus has started an intensified summer program.

During the May Cub Pack meeting, held at Harrison Elementary School, eight cubs were presented with awards: Den 1, Ricky Cottogim, recruiters badge; Den 2, Steven Moultrie, Douglas Cox and Robert Deschenes were all given their Bob Cat Pins; and David Parson received a recruiter badge.

Den 3, Tony Clark received his Bob Cat pin, Robbie Aalbers a recruiters award and his Denner's badge, Kyle Krueger also got his recruiter's badge.

For the Webelos Den, Dean Cox received his Bob Cat Pin, Mike Parsons got a recruiters badge. In addition six Naturalist badges were presented to the Cubs of 1739 — Jim Aalbertsberg, David Atherton, David McCallum, Michael Moultrie, Michael Parson and Dean Cox.

Presented at this meeting was Mrs. Pat Parson, volunteer Den Mother for Den 2, with Mrs. William Kemp's Den 1 giving their presentation of the field trip taken to Metro Park. Lary Wasvary, Webelos leader had scheduled a father-son trip to D-Bar-A Scout Ranch, occurring on May 21, 1971.

Cub Pack 1739 also had their first parade March, for Memorial Day with all Dens present and marching in conjunction with Boy Scout Troop 1739.

During the early June committee meeting, arrangements were finalized for the summer picnic affair for all cubs and their families to be held at Metro Park. It is hoped that this will be the highlight affair for the summer program and schedule.

Members present for this committee meeting were William Kemp, Cubmaster, Mrs. Sue Kemp, Robert Linne, Mrs. Linne, and Mrs. Lucy Kline. During the summer months, there is proposed one pack activity per month, with the dens designed to continue functioning as usual.

Receives degree

Walter J. Froehlich, son of Mrs. Walter Froehlich of 8925 Hannan Rd., Romulus, has received a Bachelor of Science degree in Mechanical and Design Drafting from the Lawrence Institute of Technology.

He is a 1966 graduate of Romulus Senior High School.

Musical Youth group in Denmark's parade

100 excited members of Musical Youth International took part in the traditional July 6th memorial parade in Fredericia, Denmark. After the parade the young musicians gave a concert in the city park which was televised all over Denmark.

The MYI is composed of high school musicians and chorus, including Miss Lynn Orr, 45415 Harmony Lane, Belleville.

Major Eric Anderson, civil defense officer from Hadersler, Denmark told the youth that they were the best possible ambassadors of their country. The audience loved their musicianship as evidenced by the requests for encores.

Major Anderson also commented on the favorable impressions the boys and girls were leaving with their hosts as a result of their home stays.

After an evening concert in Aalborg at the home of the symphony, Aalborg Hallen, the audience called the group back for every encore they had prepared.

The combined chorus and band had to repeat their closing number, Battle Hymn of the Republic, twice. The concert master told Mrs. Lester McCoy, executive director, that MYI could return any time.

Visits to see Viking relics in northern Denmark, followed by an evening concert in the famous Tivoli Garden in Copenhagen, are next on the lists of events for MYI.

After returning to Canada, and appearing in Montreal, at the site of Expo '67, the youth will head for New York City and Washington, D.C.

Their homecoming concert will be at 2:30 p.m. at Whiting Auditorium in Flint, Aug. 1.

Volunteers are needed to work with children

Volunteers are still needed to work in the VEP Program (Very Exceptional Persons), a special project providing day camp for the trainable children of this area.

The program which begins next week allows these special children a morning of fun and activities designed to help their coordination and sense of achievement. It provides one morning a week, Wednesday for six weeks 9:30 a.m. to noon, with games, exercises, stories, songs and handicrafts geared to their abilities. It also gives the parents a morning free since school is not in session.

The project is held at the Jefferson Elementary School, Wayne Community School District, but serves Westland, Inkster, Wayne, Romulus and several other areas.

Sponsoring the project is the YWCA of Western Wayne County. Heading the orientation of volunteers and helping with the planning is Miss Mary Lou Durbin, training teacher, Garden City School System's Special Services.

Volunteers need not be specialists in any field, but have a love of children and patience to work with these particular children who are very special.

Further information may be had by calling Miss Grey at the YWCA, LO 1-4110.

College offering classes again

Wayne County Community College classes will be offered again in September at the Romulus Senior High School, 9650 S. Wayne Rd.

The number of classes and the subjects offered will depend on enrollments. A minimum of four classes are planned provided there are at least 22 students enrolled in each.

The Community College, part of a comprehensive community education program initiated last year, was dropped at the second semester because of small enrollments and cut-backs in the college programs.

During August all former students will be contacted and a general interest survey will be conducted to determine what classes will be offered.

Anyone wishing more information about any of the classes is asked to contact Mrs. Lorena Burton at 941-1600.

WANT TO BEAT THE HEAT?

Install Gas air conditioning.

Be a cool customer. Choose Gas air conditioning. Why Gas? Operating costs are about half as much as electricity. And because a Gas system has fewer moving parts, it lasts longer. Requires less repairs. Also, Gas air conditioning customers are entitled to a special low rate on all the Gas they use, all summer long. There are other advantages, too. Less dust, humidity, pollen. And with full-house air conditioning, your windows and doors stay closed.

Just call your air conditioning contractor or Michigan Consolidated Gas Company. And remember. There's more than enough Gas for all your home requirements.

Cycle gone

The theft of a Harley-Davidson motorcycle from garage of William A. Pritula of 16200 Huron River Dr., Romulus, has been reported to Romulus police.

Pritula, director of the department of public works for the City of Romulus, reported that the motorcycle, valued in excess of $2,000 was stolen from his garage early Thursday morning.

The overhead door of the garage had been forced opened. The license number on the motorcycle was listed as B 6232.

Bakery burns in Belleville

The Belleville Home Bakery, located at 601 E. Huron River Dr., Belleville, was damaged recently when a motor in a refrigeration unit caught on fire.

Police summoned the Belleville fire department when smoke was observed coming out of the building.

Police Sgt. Clayton (Mickey) McLaughlin reported that police had to break into the one-story cement block building to extinguish the smoldering fire.

The bakery was closed for vacations. Damage to the interior was confined to smoke damage.

The waters along Pine River near Cadillac are considered by canoe enthusiasts to be the roughest in the lower peninsula.

Those participating will bring their own tent and bedding.

Total expenses for the week-end excursion should not exceed $22 and that includes the canoes, food and beverage.

The group will camp out at the Peterson Bridge, 30 miles west of Cadillac.

For reservations the committee chairmen may be reached via phone:

Rod Bly, at 697-8794; Blake Frey, at 483-2834; and Ken Reed, at 697-5591.
